

This web site has been prepared to supply general information to the public and to our friends and clients, and not legal advice. This website is not intended to be a solicitation or to render legal advice. Accepting the terms of our disclaimer is a condition of visiting our site. We have made efforts to ensure the accuracy of the information provided as of the date it was added. However, as laws change quickly, you should always ensure the accuracy and applicability of such information with respect to your particular situation. We cannot be, nor shall we be, responsible for any use of the information contained in this web site, nor any damages you may sustain from any reliance on it. You should not rely solely upon the information provided without seeking the advice of an attorney.

The information contained in this web site is general in nature, and cannot replace a thorough review of your particular legal situation by a competent attorney who has had an opportunity to review all of the facts. Without such a review, you would not be receiving competent legal help.

The Hornsby Law Firm is a law firm located in Atlanta, Georgia. Further, we are sometimes able to offer representation in additional states by working with the cooperation of counsel who are properly licensed to practice law in that jurisdiction.

Please note that we are not your lawyers simply because you may send us an e-mail, fax or other communication. Communication between us, without a clear agreement by us to represent you, does not constitute an attorney-client relationship. In order to discuss representation, we must personally speak with you. Only a written agreement between you and us that we have signed can result in our representing you and/or protecting your interests. Similarly, transmission of information from this site is not intended to create, and its receipt does not constitute, an attorney-client relationship.

Some of our pages provide links to other information resources on the Internet that we thought you might find useful. These sites are not endorsed or supported by The Hornsby Law Firm and the Firm cannot vouch for the accuracy of the information provided therein. Due to the global nature of the Internet, we do not wish to represent anyone desiring representation based upon viewing this page in a jurisdiction where this web site fails to comply with all laws and ethical rules. The Georgia State Bar Rules require that the name of at least one attorney be provided as responsible for the content on this site. The Hornsby Law Firm, LLC designates Kristie D. Hornsby.

We hope that you find our web site useful and informative and we encourage you to call for a free personal consultation.
